The electric panel that services your unit MUST be inspected by a licensed electrician as soon as possible.

Already in the last thirty days, during routine inspections, two panels (aka the fuse box) were found to be dangerously compromised. Literally melting. This can lead to an eventual electrical fire. Many insurance companies will not cover damages resulting from a faulty panel. More important, you are placing at risk your life and property as well as your neighbors.

THE SERVICE PANEL IS THE SOLE
RESPONSIBILITY OF THE UNIT OWNER.
PLEASE TAKE ACTION NOW. CONTACT A
LICENSED ELECTRICIAN TO ARRANGE FOR AN INSPECTION.
